FIRE PREVENTION AND FIRE CONTROL SCHOOL HELD WEDNESDAY

Captain C. H. Whitaker, office of State Fire Marshall, Jackson, held a fire prevention and fire control school here Wednesday night at the fire house with an attendance of 25. The high light of the instruction was the use of the fire equipment and Capt. Whitaker gave a brief outline of causes of fire, prevention of fires and control of fires.

On Thursday he gave a talk to faculty members and student body of Bay High. There were present 11 teachers, 20 students and three building custodians.

This program is sponsored by the State Department for Vocational Education of which Capt. Whitaker is instructor.

Capt. Whitaker said that the average number of fires in the United States schools average annually 2,200 (6 per day) which is a property loss of $6,000,000 ($16,500 per day) and in the homes 430,000 fires annually (1200 per day) with a loss of $150,000,000 a year and $400,000 per day.

He said that 16 per cent of these fires are from electrical causes, 12 per cent from smoking matches, 12 per cent incendiary, 11 per cent defective or overheated equipment, 11 per cent spontaneous ignition, 8 per cent ignition of flammable liquids and gases, 7 per cent defective or overheated flue or chimney, 5 per cent sparks on wooden shingle roof, 5 per cent rubbish and litter, 4 per cent defective oil burner, oil sparks from stoves, 2 per cent candles, 2 percent lightning, 1 per cent acetylene or gasoline torch, 1 per cent motion picture film ignition, 1 per cent electric iron left unattended, 1/2 per cent stem pipe ignited wood-work.

He gave several examples of the easy quick way of extinguishing fires and said that fires were almost entirely due to carelessness, and that 10,000 lives were lost in the United States, 5,000 in homes and 2,500 in schools due to carelessness.

He gave some valuable cautions. Smoking, especially in bed, leaving electric irons on, don't polish floors with gasoline rags, don't put oily rags, mops, etc. in tightly closed closets. This causes a combustion. Have your wiring inspected, by competent electricians, have heating facilities inspected.

Capt. Whitaker said that natural gas is a 910 as heavy as air and rises rapidly and is explosive at 13 per cent mixture and cautioned against turning on gas and letting something interrupt you before you light stove or oven. Butane gas has no odor but has color, is twice as heavy as air, travels downward, goes along ground seeking low spots. Explosive from 1 to 10 per cent mixture (with air).

Gasoline 3 1/2 times as heavy as air goes to ground and is explosive at 1 to 6 per cent mixture. Carbon dioxide has no odor and no color, explosive at 12 to 74 per cent mixture.

When gas explodes do not throw water but cover flame and thus extinguish quickly.

He cited the cases of safety films which almost entirely prevented fires at movie theaters.

He also cautioned against not turning in alarms immediately. Told of a case where seven houses and a lumber yard burned because no one thought to turn in the alarm.

He stressed the importance of fire drills for schools and gave an example of one particular fire drill. The room monitor stands at the door until windows are closed by captain of the room. Then monitor closes the door. Teachers lead the children out their particular exit with hands folded across the breasts as they quietly and with no talking march in regular steps out of the room.

Capt. Whitaker had a strong message as well as the information for all parents and teachers and his talk was most interesting.

ANNUAL CARNIVAL BALL

Saturday February 19th—
St. Joseph Memorial
HALL

Who is going to be the "Queen" and who is going to be the "King?" Those questions are foremost these days in the minds of everyone in Bay St. Louis as the date of the Annual Carnival Ball approaches and interest grows momentarily in the plans for this gorgeous spectacle which we are permitted to witness in our town each year.

The Carnival Ball this year will have a large court composed mostly of our local persons with ten couples who are connected with the U. S. Merchant Marine Cadet Training Base at Henderson Point. The colorful spectacle of a handsome king in formal clothes and his graceful queen with jeweled crown and dazzling mantle attended by a large court beautifully attired, all amid an artistically decorated hall and stage, always provide an evening of great joy and interest to the hundreds who attend the ball annually.

The Carnival Ball, as usual, is given for the benefit of St. Joseph Academy Parents Club who present Mother Superior M. Clare with a check representing the proceeds of this ball and which each year is used to good advantage in improving the facilities at St. Joseph Academy.

After the coronation, general dancing to the strains of an excellent band is enjoyed and for the very nominal admission of 50 cents each, everyone attending the Carnival Ball may look forward to an evening of genuine pleasure and the privilege of participating in a most worthy benefit.

Tickets are on sale at present with Mrs. Alfred Vassalli heading a very able committee.

Power Boat Sinks

The power boat Ethel Redding out of Biloxi, Captain August Cox in charge, with a crew of five sank Monday morning at the south end of Half Moon Island, with a cargo of 200 barrels of oysters for the Dorgan Packing Company here.

It was said that before retiring Captain Cox had the boat pumped dry and at midnight he rose and examined the boat but found no evidence of any water and remarked to one of the men "This is a dry boat." Between four and five he discovered water coming in rather rapidly. He called the crew and two pumps were applied but the boat sank in a short time in seven feet of water.

The entire crew was picked up by the Annie Eve and taken to Pass Christian.

A salvage crew will go out from Biloxi to raise the boat which should be accomplished in a few days.

NEW SWEET CORN HYBRIDS SUCCEED IN MISSISSIPPI

Aristogold, Top Flight, Bantam, Pontiac, Louisiana Golden Bantam, Recommended For Succession Plantings

State College, Miss.—Good news for Victory gardeners and for farmers producing food for service men in nearby camps, is the report from the Mississippi Experiment Station that several of the relatively new sweet corn hybrids are suitable for growth under Mississippi conditions.

Sweet corn, as the name implies, has a higher sugar content at "roasting ear" stage than does field corn. In addition to the better quality, most strains of sweet corn are much earlier than field corn, and with reasonable weather can be harvested as roasting ears about 60 to 70 days after planting.

Notwithstanding these advantages of sweet corn, but little has been grown in Mississippi until recently and most of the roasting ears have been from field corn. This is because the sweet corn varieties were not adapted to Mississippi conditions. The newly developed hybrids offered good prospects, but those most generally grown recently were often badly damaged by ear worms.

To test a number of the sweet corn hybrids, uniform experiments were set up last year at State College, Stoneville, and Crystal Springs. An article summarizing the tests, by R. C. Eckhardt, L. R. Parish, E. A. Currey, is published in the January Farm Research. Here are the 'good' varieties tested in 1943:

Aristogold 3 and Aristogold are yellow hybrids, having rather long and slender ears, and in 1943 were practically free of ear worm damage.

Top Flight Bantam is the earliest of the hybrids tested, is fairly resistant to ear worms, and is recommended where extreme earliness is desired.

Pontiac, a large-stalked, large-eared white hybrid, relatively resistant to corn ear worms, is recommended to those who prefer a white sweet corn.

Ivonia and Golden Cross Bantam were quite seriously damaged by corn ear worms.

From the home gardener or others who wish to plant a minimum number of times and harvest over a long period of time, compact blocks (not single long rows) of Top Flight Bantam, Aristogold No. 3 and No. 1, and Louisiana Golden Bantam are recommended. Pontiac may well be included if the color is not objectionable.

Planted in early April and a second planting made in early May, this succession should furnish roasting ears for several weeks.

WAR BOND DRIVE ON LAST LAP

Final Date February 15th—
Lets Keep Plugging And Reach Our Quota

We have only a few days left before the Fourth War Loan Drive will become history, and from all appearances it will probably make history in this county.

Every indication points to a failure in subscribing our quota of $300,000.00 in this drive. The total bonds sold to date amounts to $173,196.00, just a little better than 60 percent of Hancock County's quota. Of this amount $81,000.00 is E Bonds.

This county has made an enviable record heretofore in all drives in the war effort, but in the Fourth War Loan Drive it is apparent that we are lacking that in spirit which usually predominates in our people. Have we become complacent, and have we lost sight of the fact that today the men in service need our help far more than they did six months ago?

We have until February 15th to meet our bond quota. We have high hopes that the people of Hancock are going to put forth that last minute spurt that they usually have and will go over the top.

We have observed the work of the War Finance Committee throughout the county and we have nothing but praise to offer them for the splendid efforts they have put forth. They have worked and striven to do the job. The women of Hancock should be commended for their efforts particularly. Wherever there was an inkling of a possible bond sale they were on the job, calling on every prospect, and we sincerely hope that they will be rewarded by having the county reach its quota. Particularly would we be proud if the E Bond purchasers would come to the front and help make up this quota and put the county in a position to receive one of the ten pennants that will be awarded to the ten highest counties.

Let's not become too discouraged in this drive. Let's keep plugging, and any time you find $18.75, buy a bond, and in the end, if we keep at it until February 15, we may be able to say that we have again met our quota.

RED CROSS REPORTS ON PRISONERS OF WAR

Reports of Japanese atrocities against the Bataan and Corregidor prisoners need not mean that all American prisoners in the Far East are doomed. Some are actually receiving decent treatment in Japanese camps.

A study of recent issues of the Prisoners of War Bulletin published by the American Red Cross for the relatives of American prisoners of war and civilian internees shows that many of the Americans in prison camps in Japan on her conquered territories are well and as happy as a prisoner can be out of his own country.

Prisoners in Europe are luckier, with some camps organized to provide such things as music and education. One prisoner, for instance, writes that he is studying two languages and plans later to take a course in psychology.

The European prisoners receive mail regularly through Switzerland, providing it passes both American and foreign censorship. Once a week they get food packages from the Red Cross and arrangements may be made for relatives to send other packages. The prison food itself is said in many letters to be adequate. The Bulletin is sent to the next of kin of all American prisoners whose names are furnished by the Provost Marshal General's office to the Red Cross. Readers are asked to notify their local chapter of any change of address.

Relatives of service men are asked the Red Cross and Army and Navy not to believe short-wave broadcasts about prisoners from enemy countries. The only verified information on prisoners comes from the Provost Marshal General or the Red Cross.

A complete file of the Bulletin is kept in the local chapter office. Here, too, volunteers are still being accepted for the second visit of the Blood Donor Service mobile unit. Hundreds of volunteers are needed.

Back From Band Clinic

Members of the Bay High Band who represented the band at the Regional Music Clinic at Baton Rouge last week are back and reporting a wonderful time but better than the good time is the fact that the grade of excellent went to Jack Bourgeois, Jack Wolfe and John Dupaqueur and to Argile Spence and Oscar Davis went the grade of very good.

Congratulations, boys, we are proud of you and we are quite positive that Mr. Rooney's smile will be permanent from now on.

The girls, Molly Fayard and Ethel Schindler were guests of the girls' dormitory and the boys were in the boys barracks at the stadium. They were shown through the University, the Capitol Building and the Standard Oil Company plant.

The clinic was made up of three bands from high school musicians from the six Southern States and was under the supervision of Mr. Reuelie a noted band conductor from Michigan. Other recognized band directors who rehearsed the bands were Bruce Jones, Little Rock; Roy Martin, Greenwood; Roger Dellahide, Greenwood; Gilmore, Alexandria and Major Ed Chinnette, Baton Rouge.

CENTRAL SCHOOL, P-T. A. MET TUESDAY

The Central School P-T. A. met on Tuesday afternoon in the music room of the school with a good attendance.

Under the direction of Miss Julia Blaize the candle light playlet "Burn Candle Burn" was given by the following: Parent-Teacher Ideal, June Swan; Hope, Hope, Alicia Rollins; Cooperation; Betty Lou Taconi; Diligence, Thelma Piazza; Courage, Edith Wheat; Wisdom, June Wolfe; Comradeship, Betty Ayres.

The play was well done from every standpoint the girls had poise, self-control and put their best into the work and made it a very impressive number.

The topic was "Child Health in Your Community" and Dr. William Fitzgerald from the Merchant Marine Cadet Basic School at Pass Christian was guest speaker.

Dr. Fitzgerald after bringing out the importance of physical health and the necessity of immunization and inoculation against disease, the care that should be taken when children are affected by colds that they be absent from school because of other children being exposed.

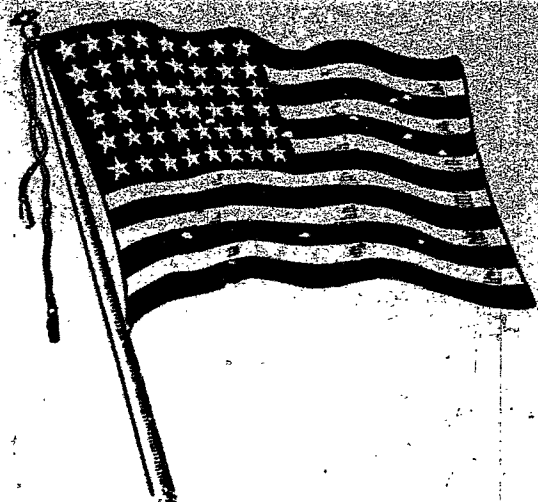

Dr. Fitzgerald's address will be published in full in next week's issue.

He enlarged upon the subject of Mental health showing that the mind of a child should be directed in the right channel in order that their physical health may not be affected by the mental attitude. He pointed out the timid child, the nervous child, the child easily frightened and showed how these things affected the physical health of the adult in after years.

Many men in service, he said gave away because their minds had not been properly directed in their youth. Their mental health had been neglected.

Home is the work shop he said where attributed must be shaped and mental hygiene is working there as an integral personality.

This was an unusual privilege to have had Dr. Fitzgerald speak to the association and many expressions of appreciation were heard.

BOB HOPE'S "LET'S FACE IT" AT A. & G. THEATRE SUN.-MON.

One of Broadway's most popular musicals, the Cole Porter smash hit, "Let's Face It," has been made by Paramount Pictures. It is what promises to be an upcoming film, co-starring Bob Hope and Betty Hutton, with Dona Drake, Cully Richards, Eve Arden, ZaSu Pitts, Marjorie Weaver and Raymond Walburn.

According to all reports, the movie version of "Let's Face It," which is due next Sunday at the A. & G. Theatre, is even funnier than its "legitimate" predecessor, which isn't surprising considering the fact that two comedy experts like Bob Hope and Betty Hutton head the all-laugh cast. This is the first time Bob and Betty have been paired and the results are said to be cyclonic.

The plot of "Let's Face It" gives

Bob innumerable opportunities for gags. It has him in Army uniform again, as in "Caught in the Draft," but this time his troubles beset him off the camp grounds when he meets three restless, middle-aged wives, played by Eve Arden, ZaSu Pitts and Phyllis Povah. The women suspect their husbands of philandering and decide to do something about it. The "Something" involves Bob.

Bob has plenty of scope for his hilarious brand of comedy when the husbands show up with three flashy girls and the three soldiers' sweethearts arrived to do a little checking.

ORTE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY "I DOOD IT"

Red Skelton clown himself into the heart of Eleanor Powell once again in M-G-M's laughmusical, "I Dood It," at the Orte Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

Red plays a pants' presser who borrows his customers' clothes to dance attendance on the popular stage star, Connie Shaw, played by Eleanor Powell. Connie is in love with her co-star, Richard Ainley, and when he becomes interested in Patricia Dane she marries Red in spite. Red's troubles have only just begun. Before he knows it, he has been exposed as a fraud; Connie has left him. But the situation soon changes as he captures a band of saboteurs single-handed and not only wins Connie's heart but a substantial reward with which to produce her next show.

Music by Jimmy Dorsey

Jimmy Dorsey and his band furnish the musical background and Lena Horne and Hazel Scott appear together for the first time on the screen in a sensational production number, "Jericho." Miss Powell performs one of the most difficult dance routines ever seen on the screen. In the "So Long, Sarah Jane" number she not only dances the rhythm but twirls a lariat with a skillful hand while tapping out the intricate steps.

Red was never funnier than he is as the worshipping tailor, and Miss Powell, wearing special Irene-designed creations, is stunning. Sam Levene as the fast-talking tailor turns in an amazing performance. Others in the cast are Thurston Hall, Morris Ankrum and John Hodiak.

WHAT would a wounded soldier think of you if he could hear you say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond?"

He might remind you that he couldn't "afford" to go to war! But he went, and now he's making more sacrifices for you. No wonder he expects you to do something that will help him!

Especially when all you're asked to do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond this month. So check over your budget... see if you can't swing at least an extra $100... or $200... or $300... or even $500 for extra War Bonds. You'll find that you can... and it's no sacrifice, either, for War Bonds are the best investment in the world today!

Some forty to fifty "favorites" of the screen, stage and air are expected to be impersonated, including Judy Garland, Vivian Leigh, Gracie Allen, Martha Raye, Zazu Pitts, Greta Garbo, Ginger Rogers, Joan Davis, Kate Smith, Katherine Hepburn, Joan Blondell, Laurel and Hardy, Stepin Fetchit, Amos and Andy, Bing Crosby, Donald Duck, Betty Grable and many others.

In keeping with the stage show, the management has booked "You're A Lucky Fellow Mr. Smith."

I'm going to walk into Doc Wilkins' drug store and say—

"Give me the biggest malted milk in the world"

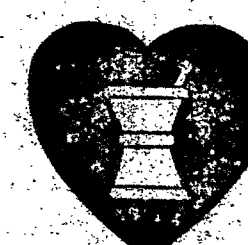

Chances are, Johnny Doughboy will get that malted milk. Doc Wilkins, like all home-town druggists, is used to hearing strange requests—and he has a way of coming through each time.

Your independent druggist's whole life is devoted to serving his friends and neighbors. He has a high sense of duty—and his heart bids him to help you at any hour, day or night. Because of your druggist's spirit, it is no wonder the soldier is thinking of heading for his store, mighty soon, when he gets home. He'll find that some of the service had to be curtailed during war-time. But he'll find no change in the druggist himself. He is still "a good friend forever."

INTERESTING WEDDING

A very quiet wedding but one claiming much interest here was that of Miss Mary Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Carr of Clermont Harbor and Delmar Wilcox of Chicago which took place at the home of the Rev. E. E. Samples, pastor of the Main Street Methodist Church officiating.

Miss Gloria Carr, sister of the bride was her only attendant. The wedding though quiet was not a surprise as their romance is of several years standing. Mr. Wilcox having met the bride in Clermont Harbor when he visited there.

The bride is a graduate of Bay High and of Babouin school, New Orleans, and held a responsible position with the Consolidated Aircraft Company of that city.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for Chicago for a short stay.

For traveling the bride wore a becoming outfit of teal blue worn with a gardenia corsage.
